

Bluetooth Controlled Vehicle

Alexandru OLENICI, Alexandru ILIE, Alexandru TOFAN, Liliana TOMA,
Gabriel CHINDRIȘ

Abstract

This paper presents the implementation of a bluetooth controlled vehicle. The system is based on two ATmega328 microcontrollers which are communicating through the SPI interface. The Bluetooth module communicates with the main microcontroller via UART and is used mainly for uploading firmware into the master microcontroller, using the onboard bootloader, but also for debugging and remote controlling the vehicle.